Our Comet stands as a milestone, recording the happy years we have spent together as students in Nazareth High School. In assembling this material, the staff has endeavored to feature an over-all glimpse of activities and events that have contributed to the development of students as citizens of our school community. Dedication

As a memorial to the efforts and high ideals of Gordon S. Feller, our late beloved and respected principal, the Class of 1949 dedicates this Comet.

From the September day in 1947 when he first came to Nazareth High School as principal, we knew that Mr. Feller was our friend and counselor, one who understood our feelings and in whom we could put our trust.

Mr. Feller's whole-hearted interest was centered upon the school and its community. We will always remember him as a bright light in our school career, a man who worked with us, lived with us, and always had our interests at heart.

SCHOOL BOARD

The citizens of Nazareth Borough Schools are greatly indebted to the untiring efforts of these seven men, comprising the school board, who unselfishly devote a considerable amount of their time to our schools.

Mr. Frederick A. Marcks, our superintendent, endeavors to keep all phases of the schools coordinated and running smoothly. He ever encourages suggestions for improvement.

Mr. Lee A. Graver, our principal, came to us from Englewood, New Jersey, on January 17, 1949.

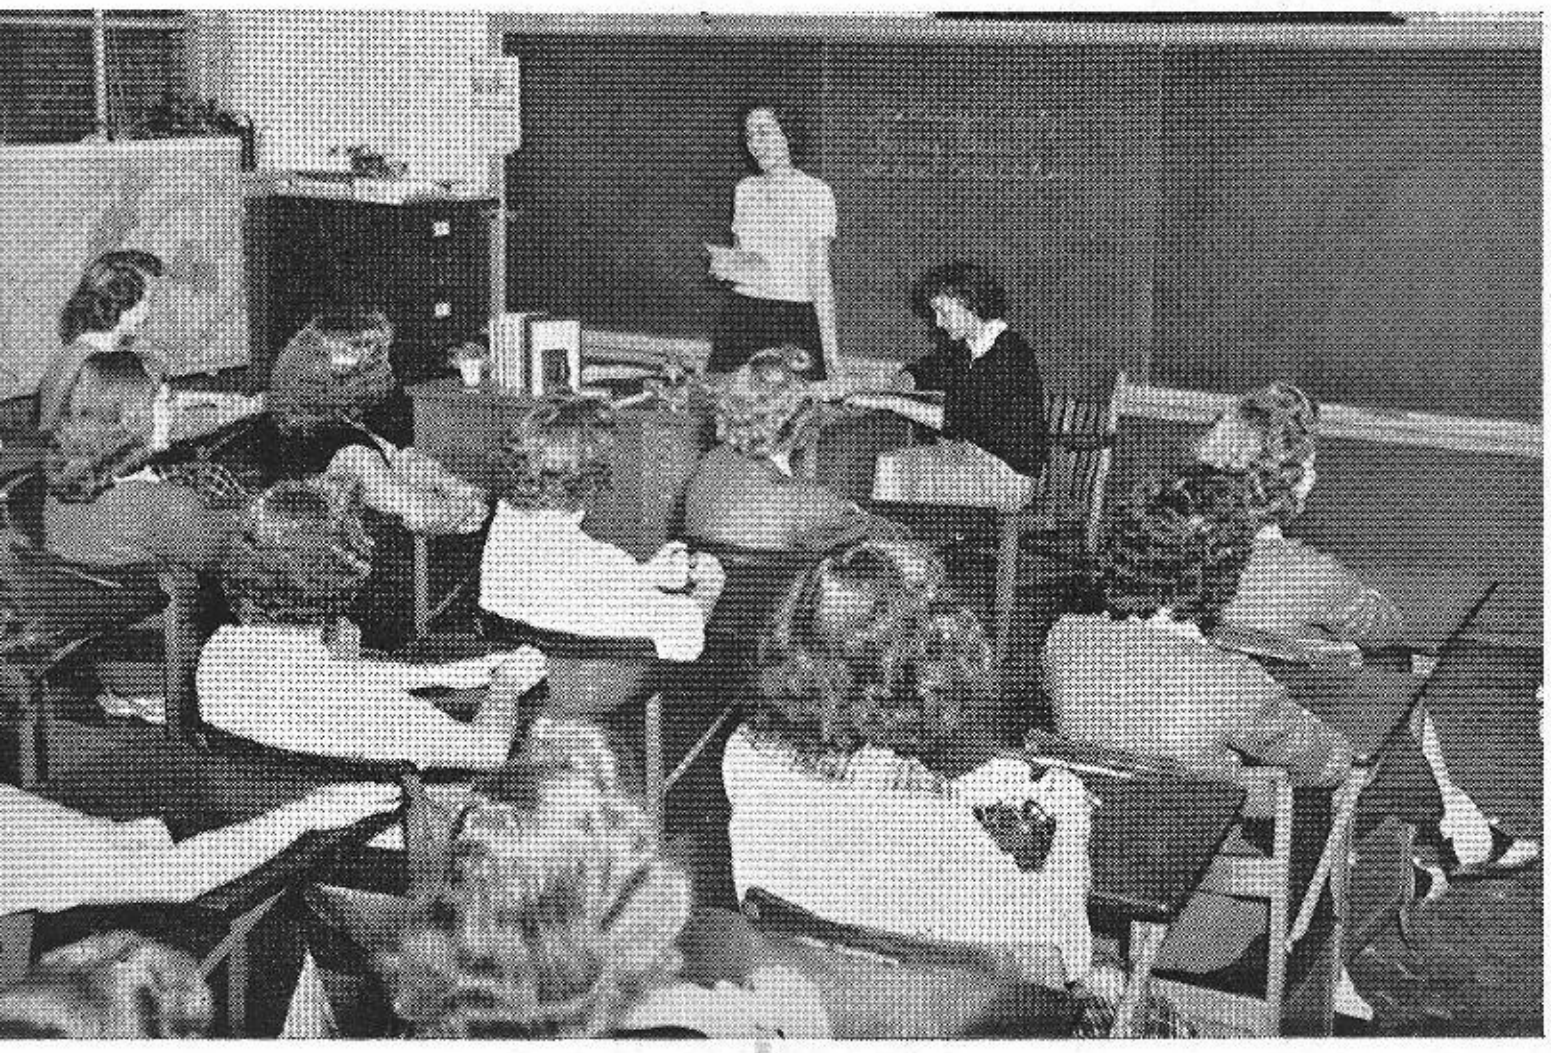
Here with daily tasks we struggle
With our goal in sight

Our Guidance Program

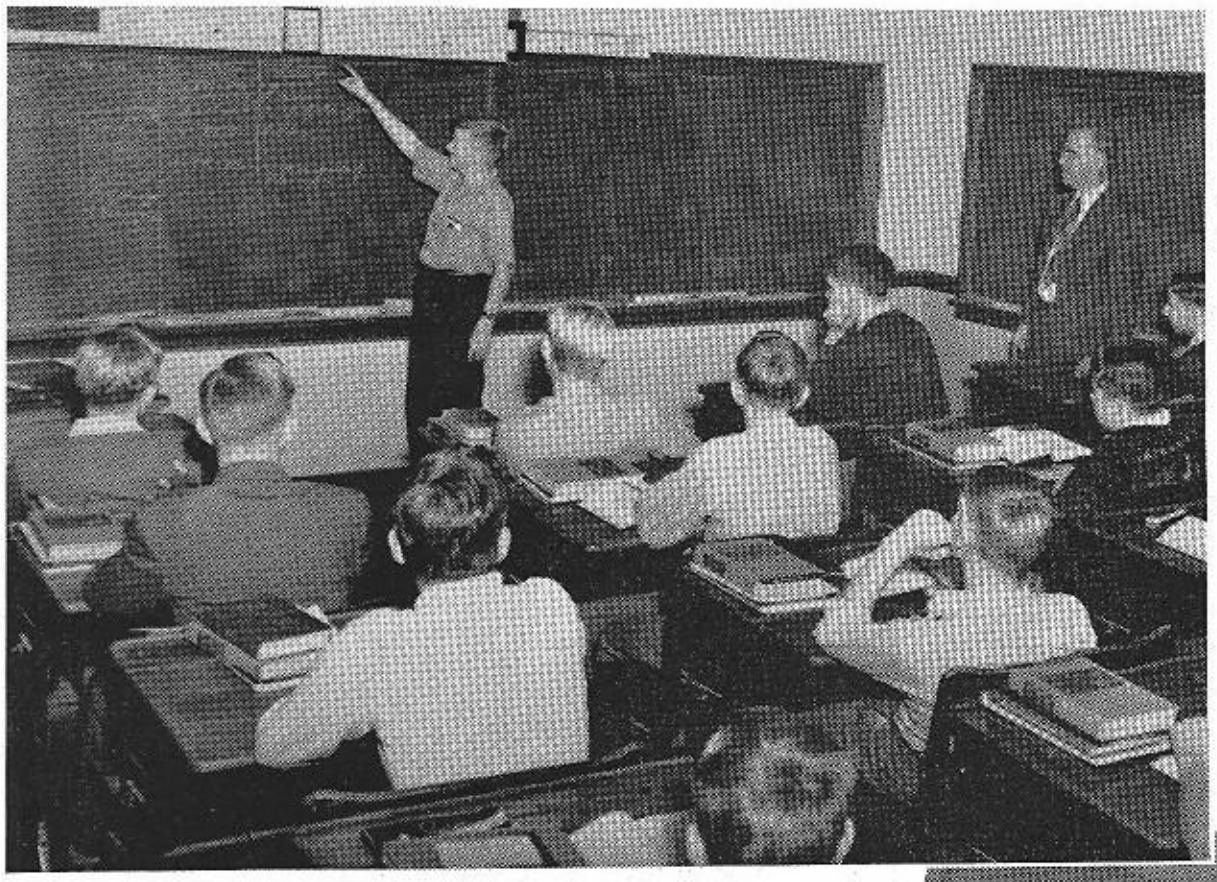
Beginning in the fall of 1948, Nazareth High School inaugurated a guidance program to help students solve the problems that confront them in their day to day living, both in and out of school.

Mr. Goulding, our recently appointed Guidance Counsellor, and a student discussing a problem.

Our college adviser, Miss Unangst, helping a student in selecting a college.



As part of the guidance program, students contribute their ideas in a homeroom discussion group.

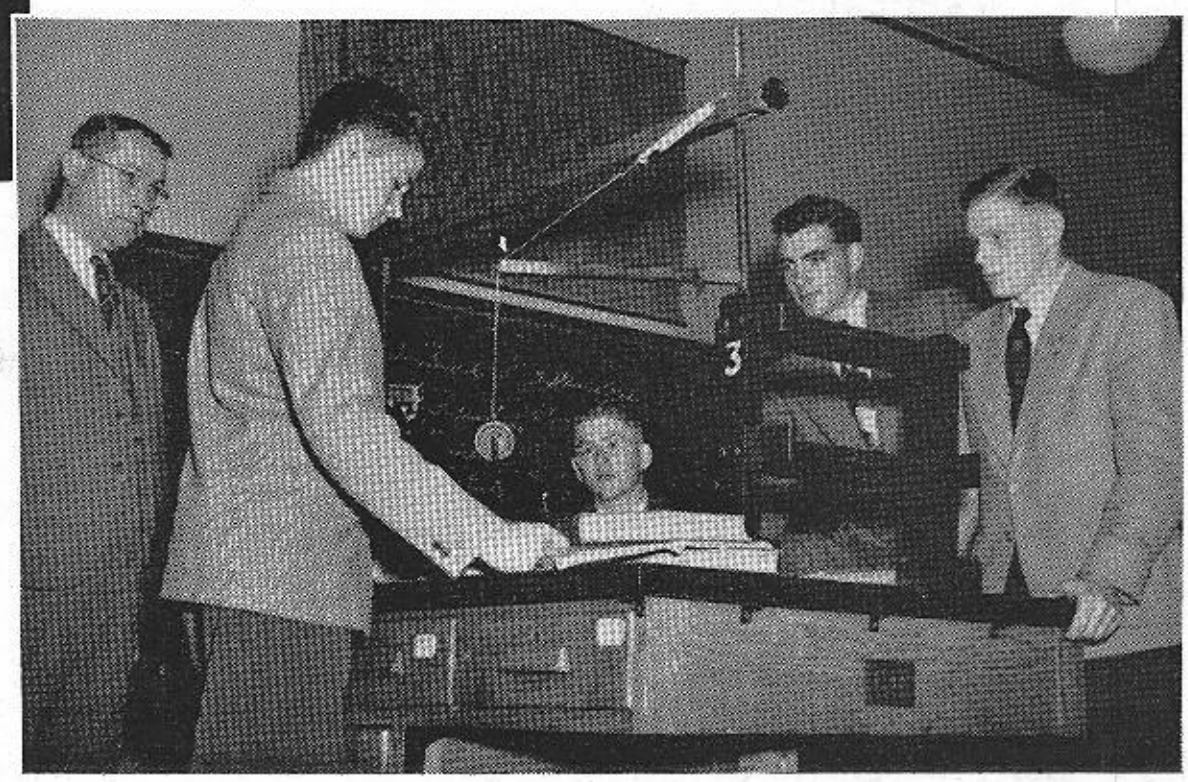


Science and mathematics help to round out the background of students and give the necessary foundation for those interested in attending college.

A student demonstrating a proposition in plane geometry.

Chemistry students performing an experiment on oxidation and reduction.

Examining the lower living specimens in biology class.



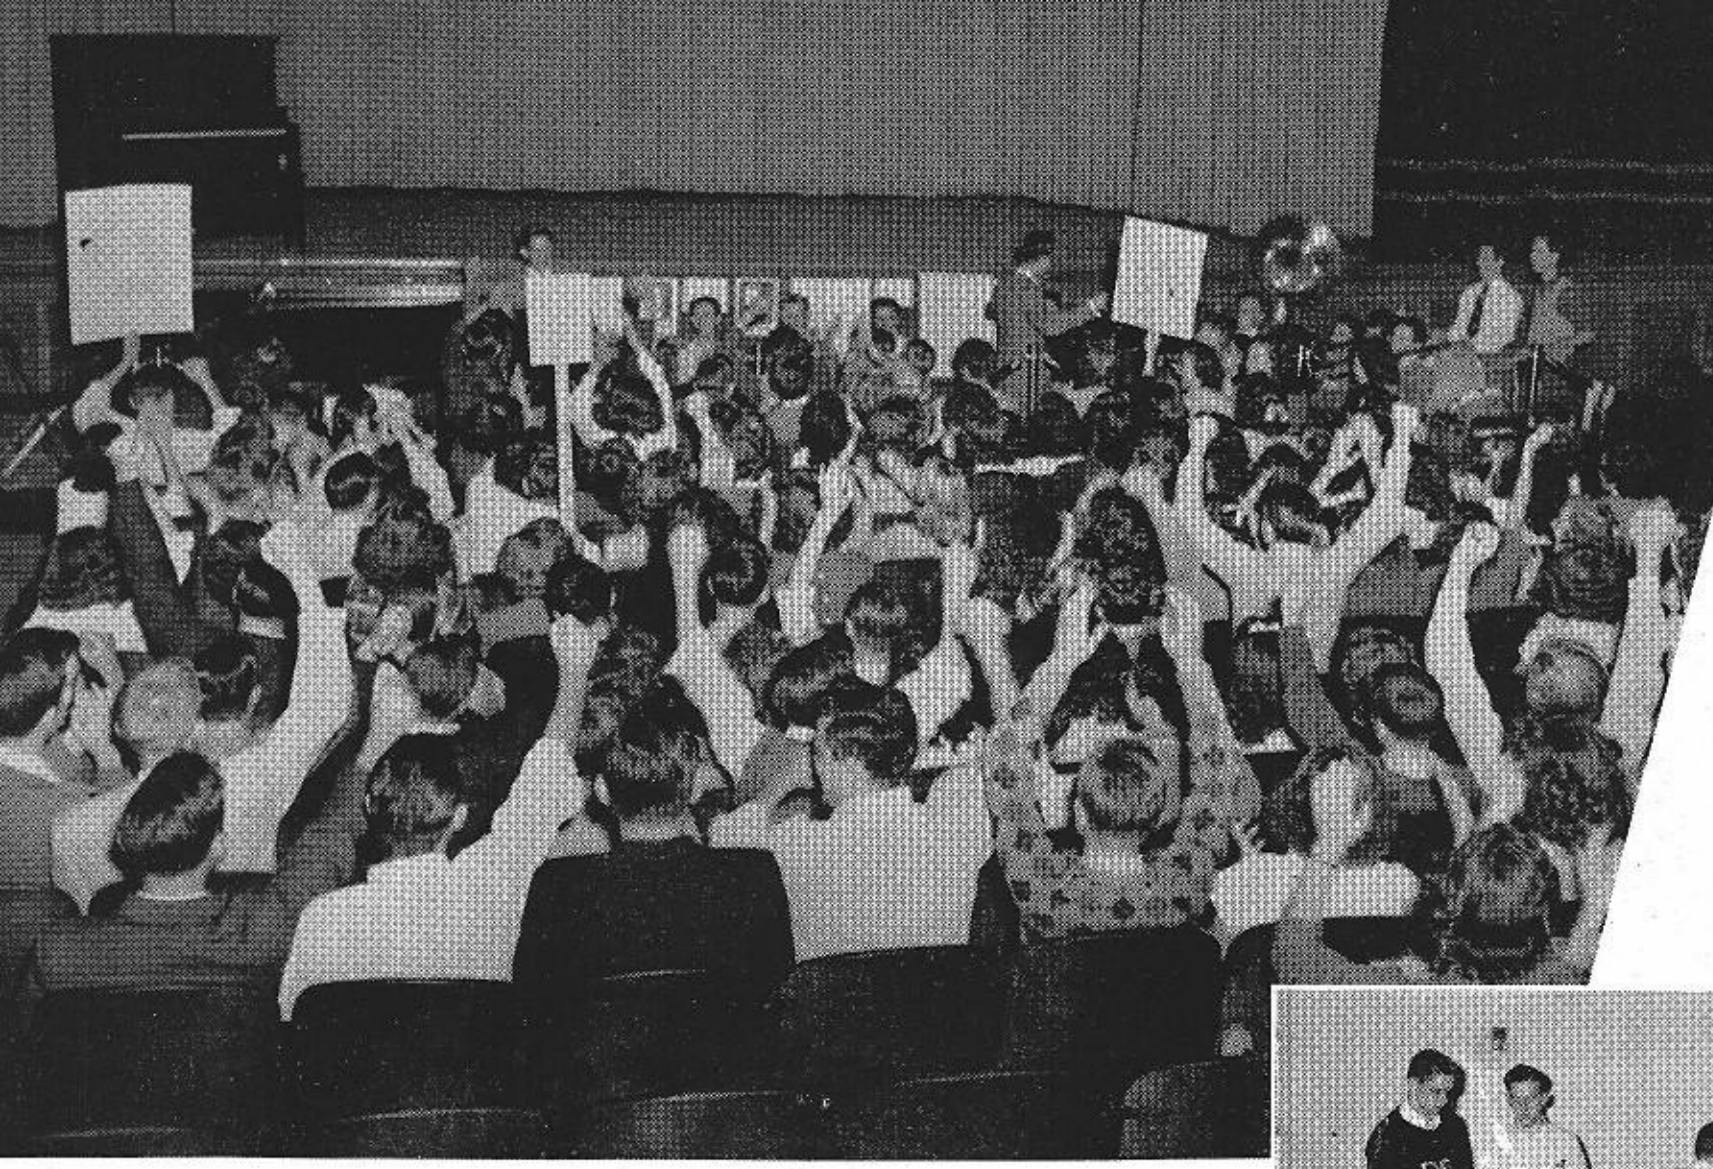
Finding the resolution of a force in physics laboratory.

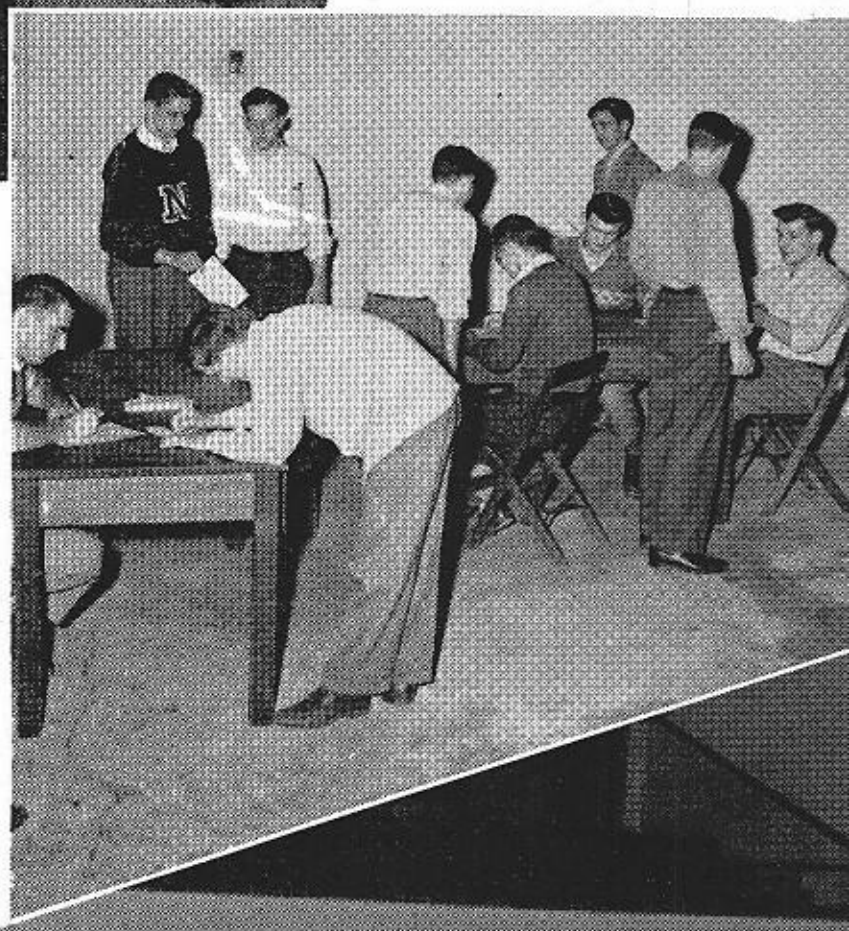
Our Library

Ten students daily assist the librarian in the work of filing, circulating books, and checking in magazines for the approximate nine hundred students who use the high school library.

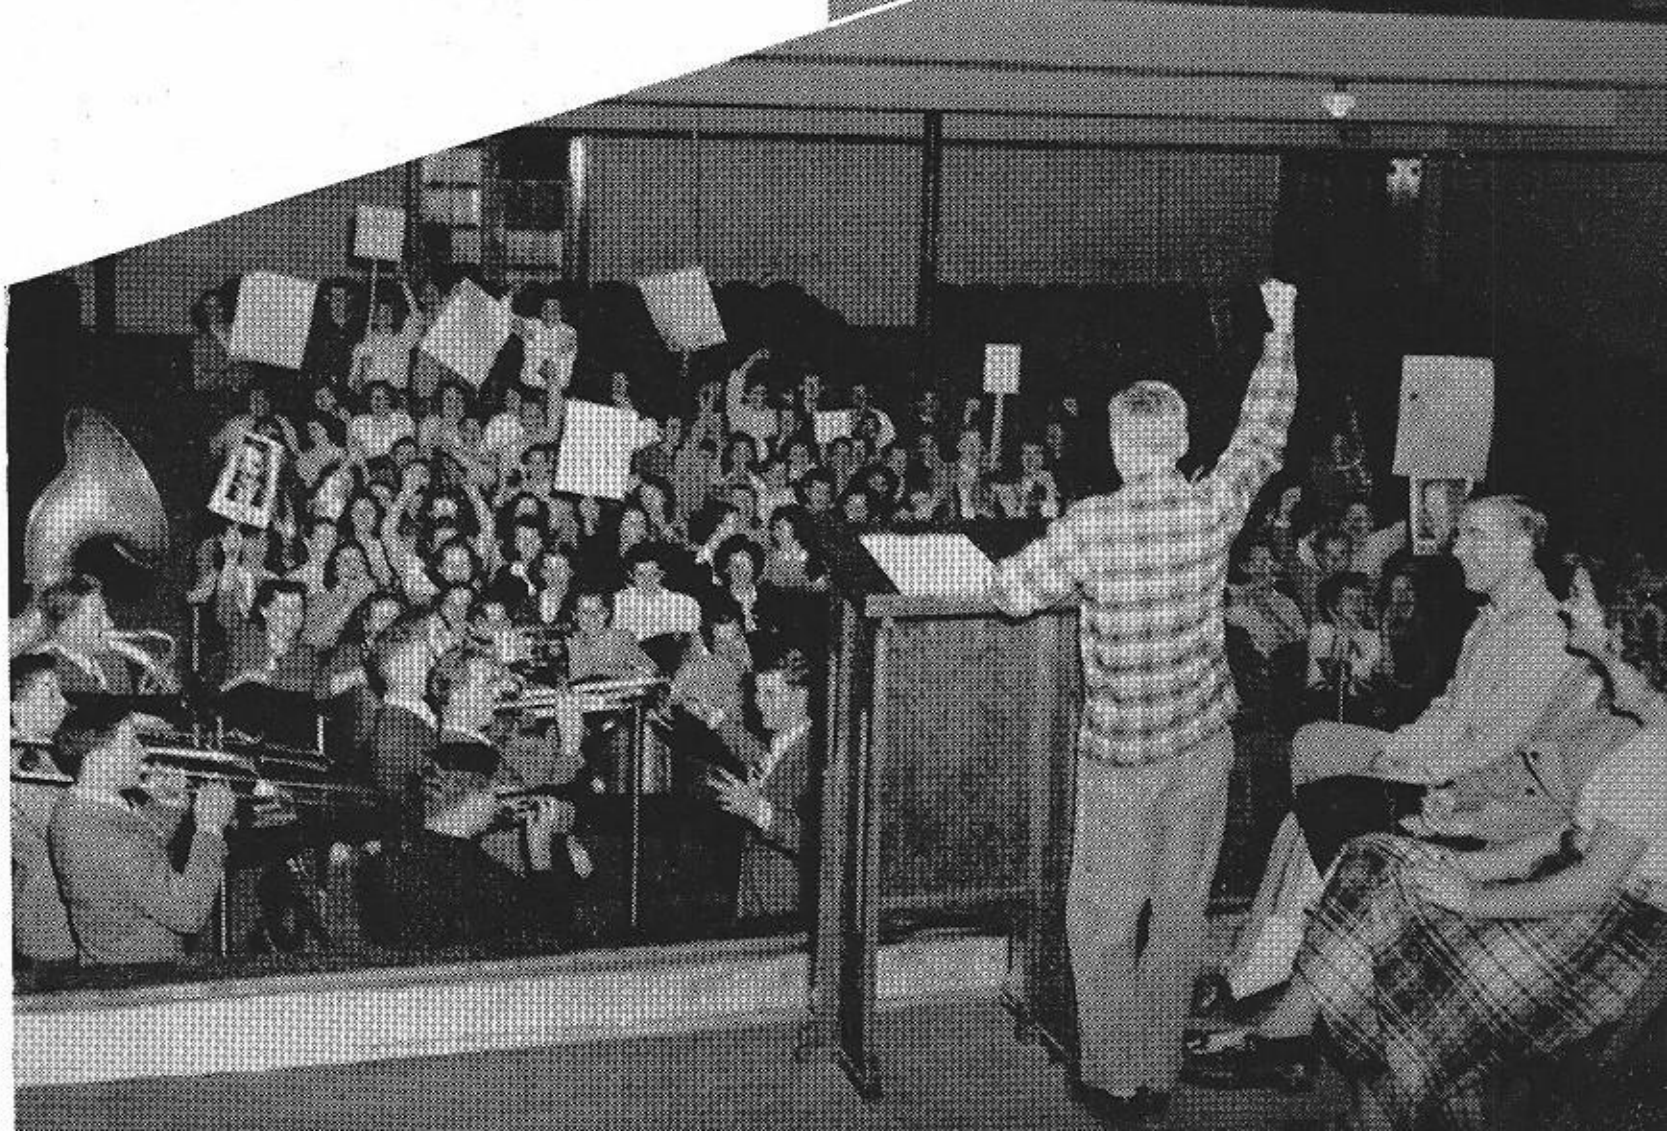
English students preparing a library reference assignment.

Students helping Miss Berger check on books.





As this was a presidential election year, the social science classes had firsthand election experiences. Both the Republicans and Democrats held political rallies, culminating in a student-conducted presidential election in November. Despite all the forecasts, the election went solidly Democratic.



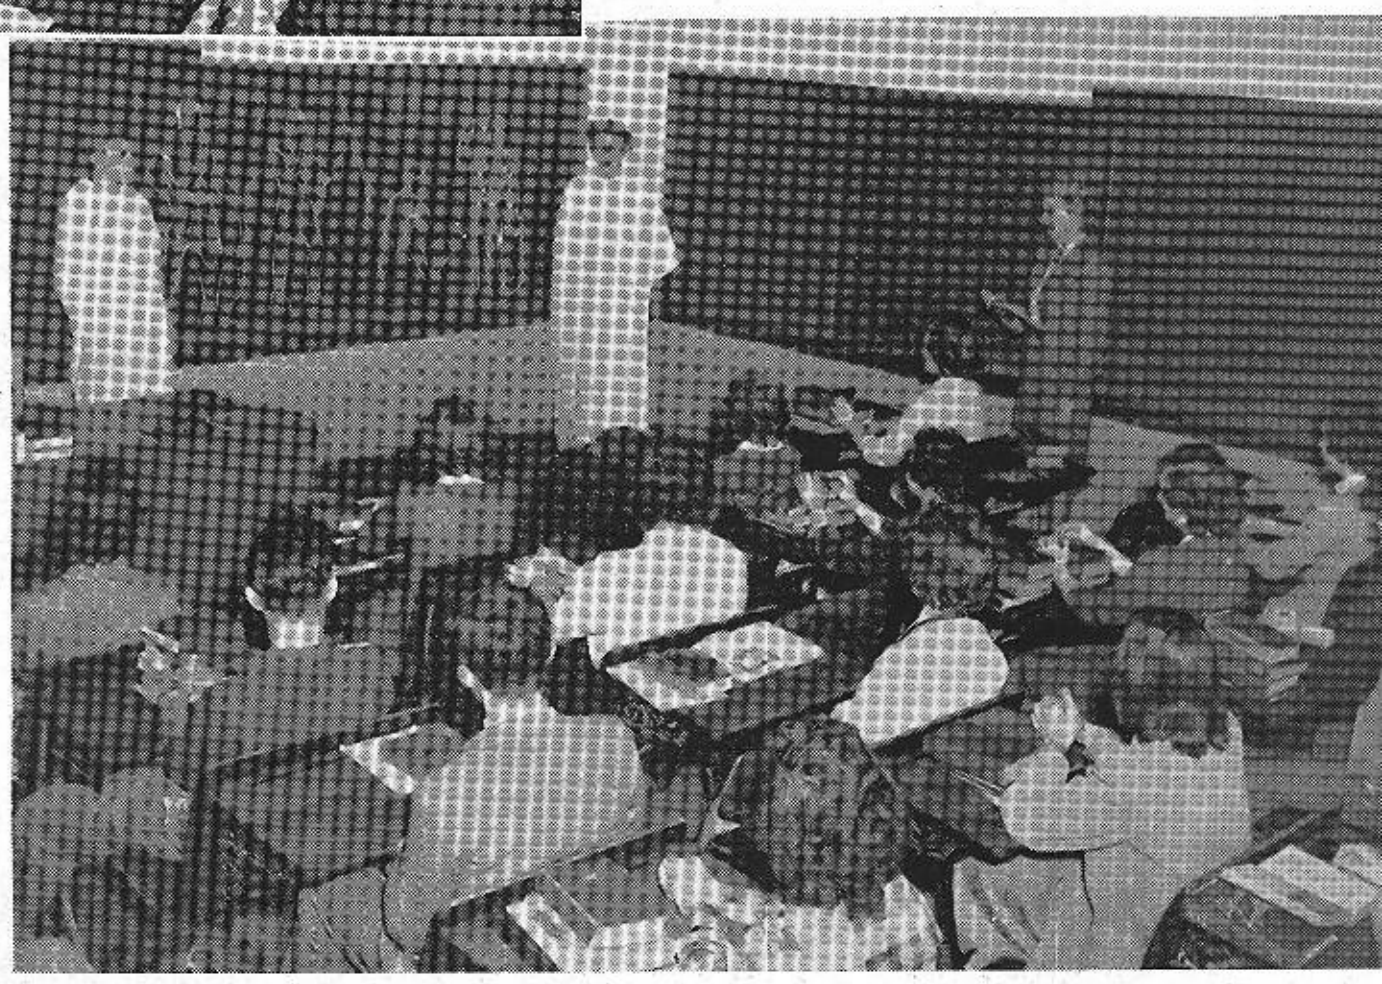
Language Classes

In English, German, and Latin classes students learn to speak and write languages correctly. Not only grammar, pronunciation, and vocabulary are stressed, but students learn to read and to interpret the literature.

Learning the conjugation of verbs in the sophomore English class.

Translating a passage in German.

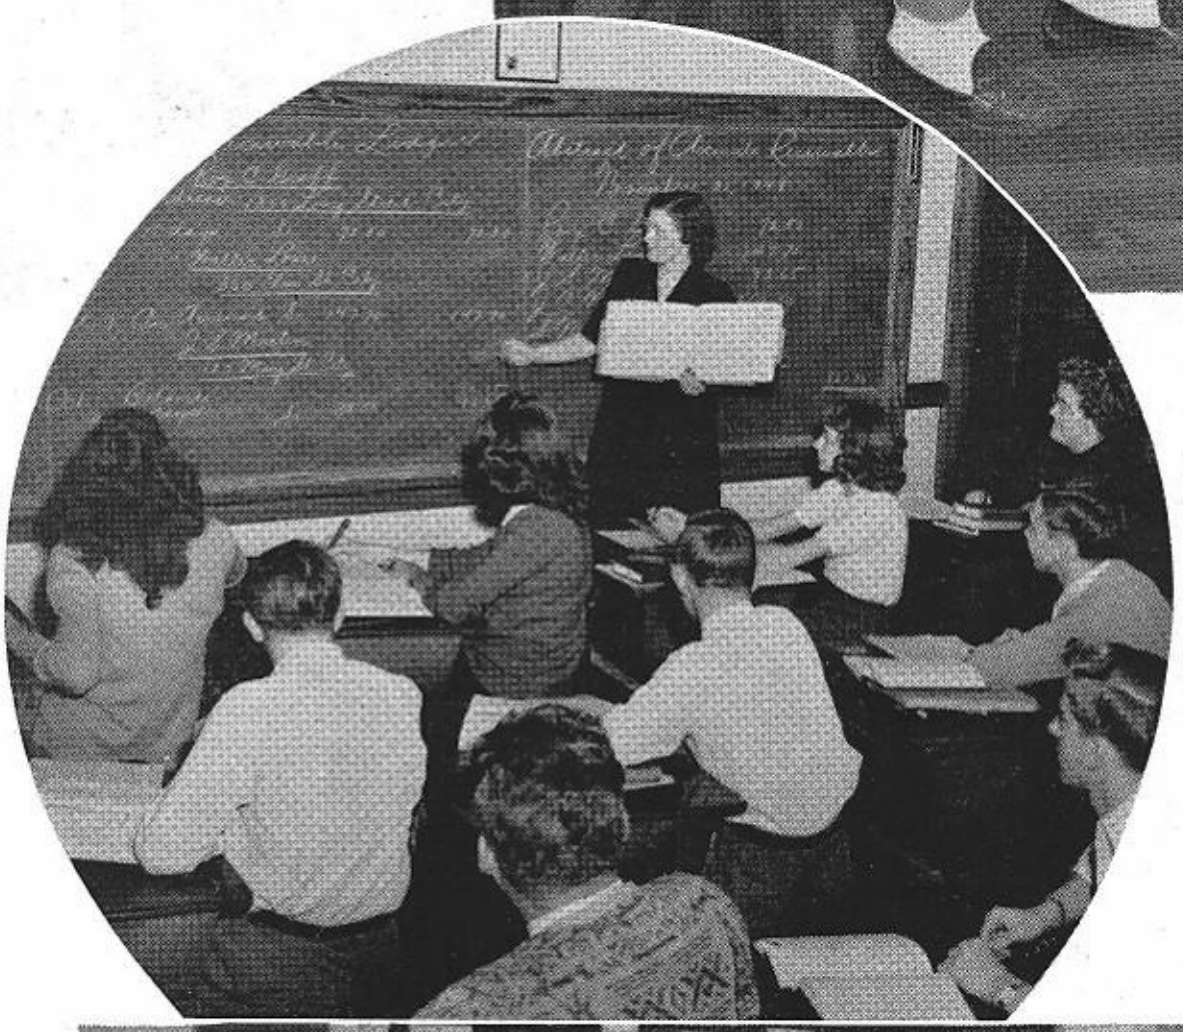
Demonstrating Roman customs in Latin class.



BUSINESS TRAINING

Students learn to become efficient secretaries through the use of modern office equipment.

Using the Dictaphone and the Allen Wales Bookkeeping Machine.



Becoming familiar with the various accounts in bookkeeping under Mrs. Metz's supervision

Learning filing, calculating, and the use of adding machines in office practice

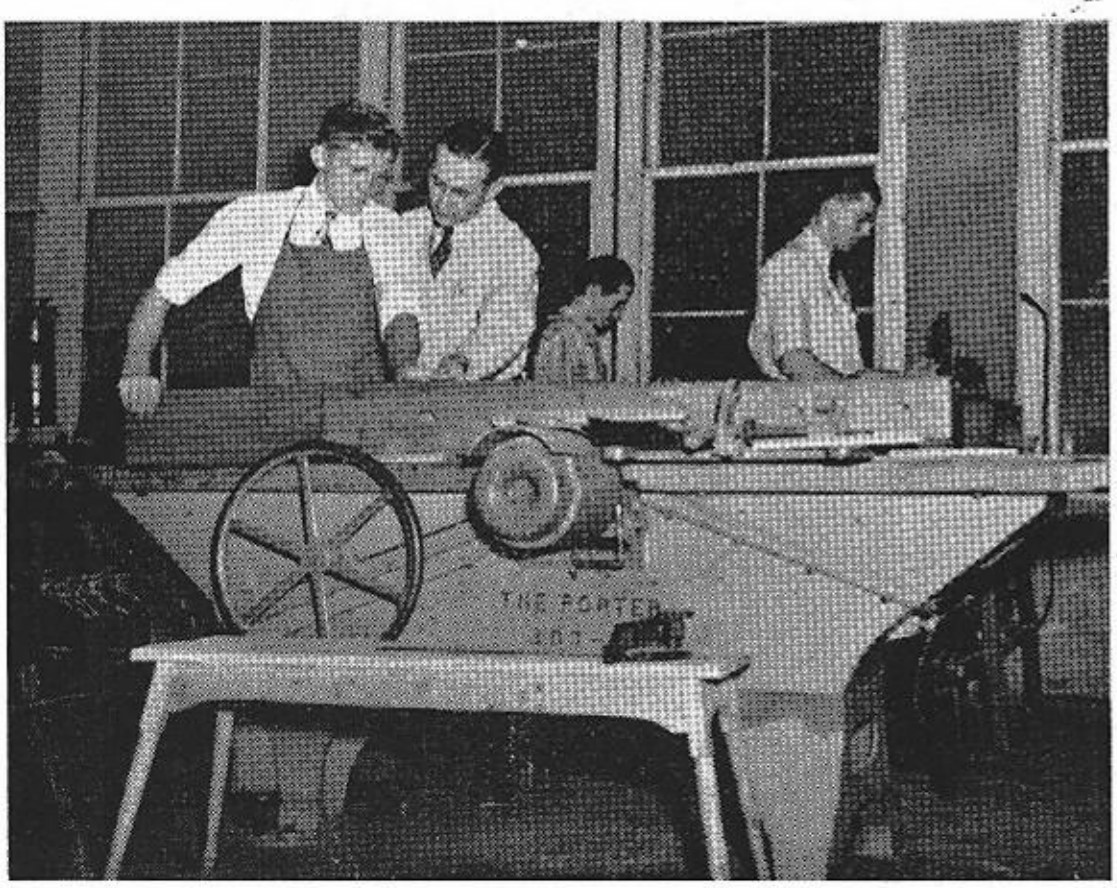
ARTS AND CRAFTS

The art classes offer an opportunity to students to express themselves in creative projects. In this field there are a variety of interests presented including poster work, oil and water color painting, sculpture, ceramics, illustration, and fabric design.

Putting glaze on ceramics in Art Class

Art students making posters under the direction of Miss Clute

Students learning to use the jointer in shop



Meeting a double period each week in a group in machine woodworking. In shop classes the students learn to use the circular saw, wood lathe, and all hand tools. Attractive pieces for the home are fashioned, including beds, cedar chests, and book shelves.

HOMEMAKING

Planning a well-balanced menu in foods class

In homemaking the students are taught food preparation and cooking. They learn meal planning, nutrition, and the principles of special diets.

Sewing students study the details of a first prize school ensemble

Students learning the art of meal planning

For those interested in clothes designing, there are clothing classes that stress textiles, clothing selection, and personality development in clothes, pertaining to styles, color, and materials. The students develop their ideas by making clothes for themselves.

HEALTH AND DRIVER EDUCATION

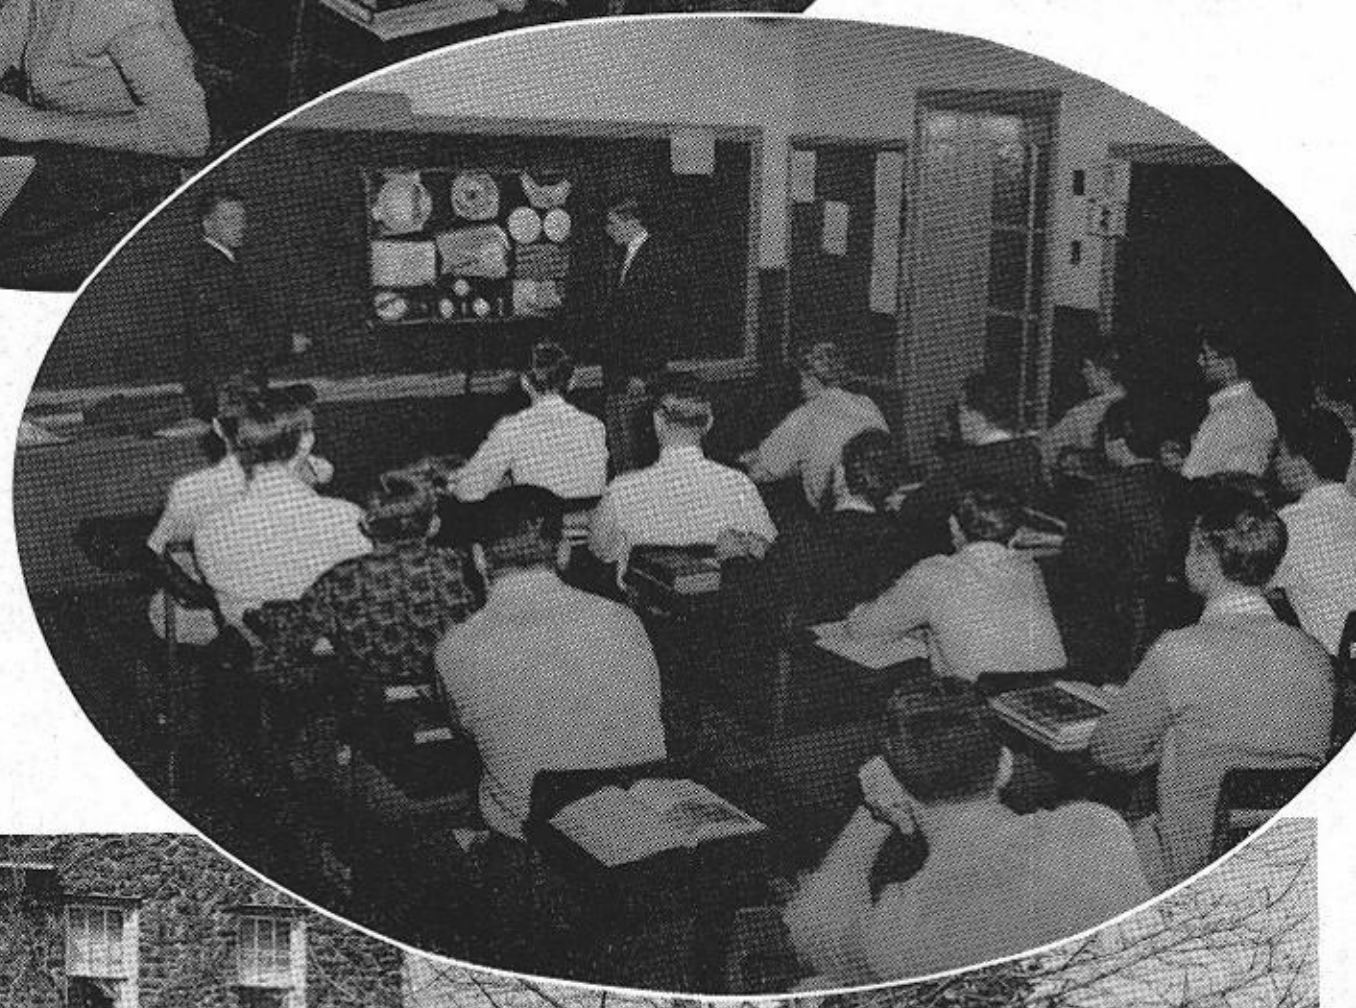
Explaining bone structure to a class of senior girls

A group of senior boys learning the principles of the eye

Learning to drive in the dual-control car

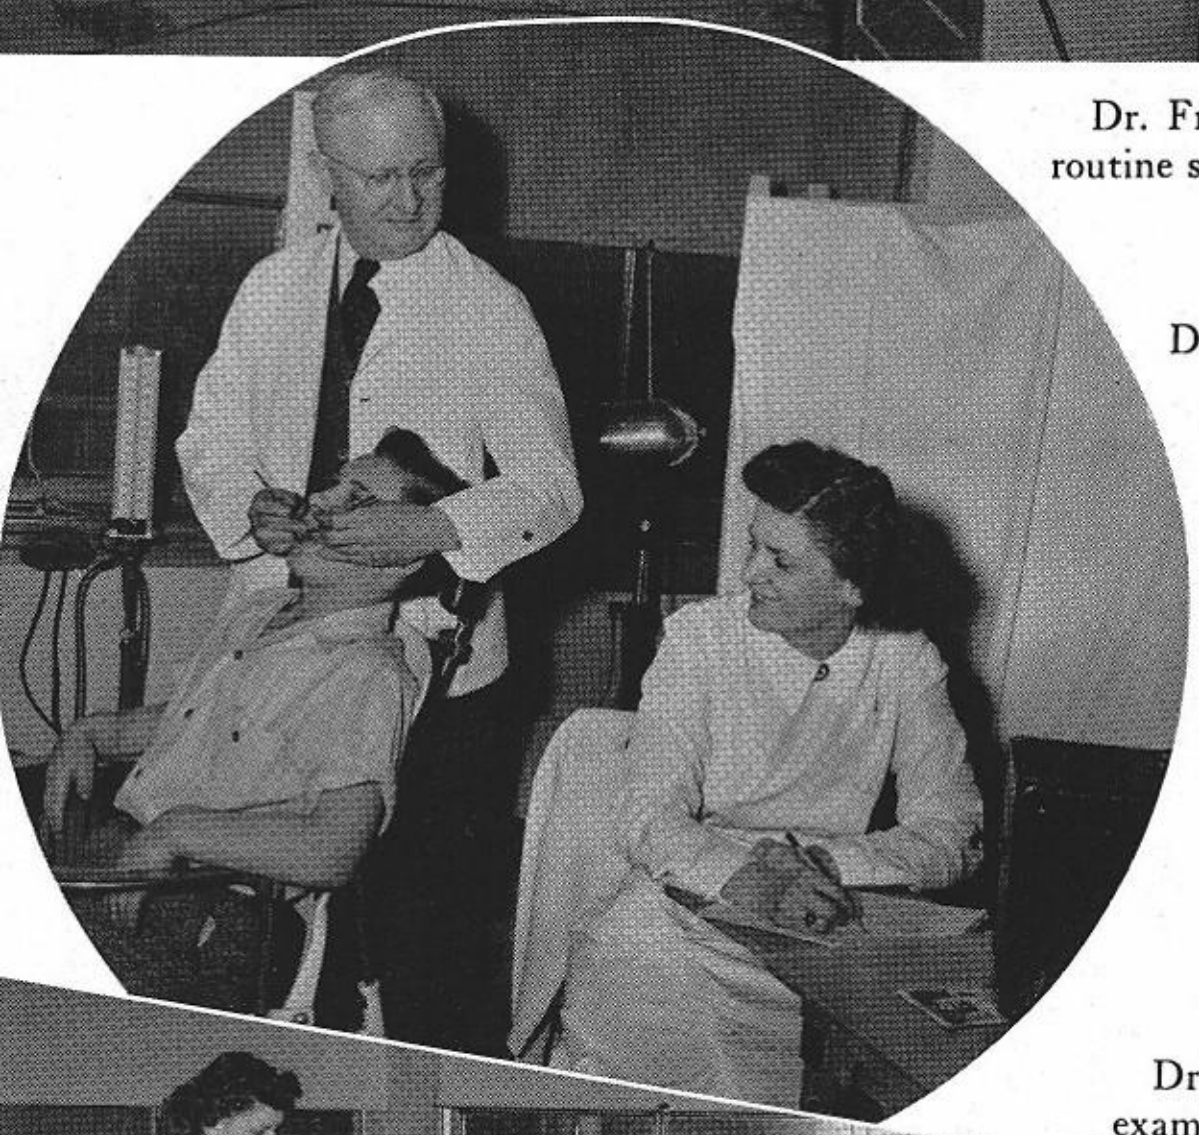
In health class the girls study good grooming, personality improvement, and child care. The boys are taught first aid and accident prevention along with other subjects.

Driver education aims to produce alert, careful drivers, a safety essential.



Physical Check-ups

Dr. Fraunfelder giving a routine sports check-up



Dr. Uhler examining a student's teeth

That the students of Nazareth High School have adequate medical check-ups is the aim of our threefold health program. This includes a yearly physical and a dental examination, and also a special checkup for students participating in sports.

Clubology

In order that interested students could participate in club activities, the eighth period was set aside three days a week for extracurricular activities. Not only do the clubs have their own goals, but they also contribute worthwhile achievements to the school.

The Stage Craft Club, newly organized this year under the direction of Miss Clute, rebuilt the set for the senior play and prepared the stage for the Dramatic Club plays.

The Dramatic Club has been active this year under Miss Unangst's supervision. Besides a public performance, the Mysterious Tree was presented as an assembly program on November 22.

In addition to producing plays, club members studied the art of make-up, casting, and directing of plays, and attended plays given by Lafayette College.

The Photography Club examines all types of cameras and learns the technique of taking and developing pictures.

The pictures on pages 23 and 38 of this yearbook were taken by our amateur photographers.

Mr. Roth directs the Club activities.

The Typing Club learns the fundamentals of typewriting once a week under the direction of Mrs. Kolessar.

To learn how to become efficient secretaries is the aim of the Commercial Club. Good grooming and proper business etiquette is studied under Mrs. Roth's supervision.

The Forum Club, directed by Mr. Goulding, discusses current affairs. On March 25 the Forum presented an assembly on the question: "How can student participation in the government of Nazareth High School be made to work effectively?"

In spite of a small varsity squad, the Football Team had a successful season with five wins and four losses. Handicapped with injuries, many of the boys were forced to miss practice for a week or two, making a shuffle of players necessary.

The most outstanding victory of the season was the Pen Argyl game, with Nazareth triumphing twenty-six to twenty-five. It was even more outstanding because the victory wasn't determined until the last minute of the game.

All the home games drew large crowds. The Bangor game was by far the largest crowd ever on the home field.

The playing of the team throughout the season was spurred on by Marlyn Roth, the outstanding squad player.

The squad elected Maynard Rissmiller honorary captain of the team.

Intramural games play a large part in the after school sports of the girls. After a few weeks of practice, the elimination of the inferior teams begins, and it continues until the championship team is left. This year in hockey a sophomore team, the Snookie OOkums, came up for the laurels with an undefeated, untied, and unscored upon record.

The competitive spirit always becomes keener with the arrival of basketball. The Senior team, the 'Elos, were the victors this season.
